

PRIVACY POLICY ON

www.folkecenter.dk, www.folkecenterevents.dk and www.smallwind.dk

This policy describes how we collect and use personal data about you, in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

The guidelines for our processing of personal data are found in the EU's Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR" - 2016/679) and the Danish Data Protection Act, both of which entered into force on 25 May 2018. Before this date, the processing is regulated in the current Danish Personal Data Act.

As a result of your visit on one of the following webpages, we process information about you:
www.folkecenter.dk, www.folkecenterevents.dk and www.smallwind.dk.

Please read the following carefully to understand our practices regarding your personal data and how we will treat them.

Data controller

The legal entity responsible for the processing of your personal data is:

Company Nordisk Folkecenter for Renewable Energy

CVR no. 72291212

Address Kammersgaardsvej 16, Ydby

7760 Hurup Thy

Email info@folkecenter.dk

How we may collect your personal data

We obtain personal data about you, for example, when you contact us by email; you register to our newsletter and/or to one of our events, you give us your business card, or from publicly available resources, such as your company's website.

The kind of information we hold about you

The information we hold about you may include the following:

- a) your personal details (name, email address, phone number and business address)
- b) your interests in the renewable energy fields and in Nordic Folkecenter's activities
- c) our correspondence and communications with you

How we process your personal data

We may process your personal data for the purposes of our own legitimate interests provided that those interests do not override any of your interests, rights and freedoms which require the protection of personal data. This includes processing for the purpose of sending you our newsletters and in general to inform you about our events, projects and initiatives.

We may process your personal data for certain additional purposes with your consent, and in these limited circumstances where your consent is required for the processing of your personal data then you have the right to withdraw your consent to processing for such specific purposes.

Please note that we may process your personal data for more than one lawful basis depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your data.

Situations in which we will use your personal data

We may use your personal data in order to:

- send you newsletters
- contact you directly in connection with our activities

In some circumstances we may anonymise or pseudonymise the personal data so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use it without further notice to you.

We may also process your personal data without your knowledge or consent, in accordance with this policy, where we are legally required or permitted to do so.

Data retention

We will only retain your personal data for as long as it is necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it is collected.

When assessing what retention period is appropriate for your personal data, we take into consideration:

- the requirements of our provided services;
- any statutory or legal obligations;
- the purposes for which we originally collected the personal data;
- the lawful grounds on which we based our processing;
- the types of personal data we have collected;
- the amount and categories of your personal data; and
- whether the purpose of the processing could reasonably be fulfilled by other means.

Change of purpose

Where we need to use your personal data for another reason, other than for the purpose for which we collected it, we will only use your personal data where that reason is compatible with the original purpose.

Should it be necessary to use your personal data for a new purpose, we will notify you and communicate the legal basis which allows us to do so before starting any new processing.

Data sharing

We will share your personal data with third parties where we are required by law, where it is necessary to administer the relationship between us or where we have another legitimate interest in doing so.

“Third parties” includes third-party service providers. The following activities are carried out by third-party service providers: IT and cloud services, professional advisory services and administration services.

All of our third-party service providers are required to take commercially reasonable and appropriate security measures to protect your personal data. We only permit our third-party service providers to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

Data security

We have put in place commercially reasonable and appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

Your rights

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- Request access to your personal data. This enables you to receive details of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are processing it lawfully.
- Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you.
- Request erasure of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it.
- Request the restriction of processing of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal data about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal data for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time.

If you want to exercise any of the above rights, please contact us by sending a mail to info@folkecenter.dk with the subject line: DATA REQUEST: GDPR or DATA CANCELLATION: GDPR.
